New-fangled notions we have always had our own opinion of. We have stuck therefore to the good old paths of medicine, and refused to remove a landmark—blister, lancet, pill, bolus lotion, potion, all are yet objects of respectful reverence. We have grave moral doubts as to this insidious, mysterious, tasteless Homeopa-thy. It seems not unlikely to be part of a general tendency to effeminacy which is creep-ing in with wealth and refinement. There is a strong aroma of indolence about it. It requires no exertion, no self-denial. Taking medicine, once a manly and heroic achievement, has become a mere sugar-plum affair.

Once doctors sat down around a sick man like a fleet of ships about Gibraltar. They bombarded a disease, front and rear, with balls and boluses; they pierced it, or scarified it, or hung upon its course with cataplasm and blister, at such a rate, that any man with half an eye could see that one or the other must give out speedily—the disease or the patient! But now our Homeopathic Chesterfield regards a disease as a good-natured intruder, that can be winked and bowed and smiled out. Diseases are mere callers, ready to stop at the door and leave their card, or to sit five minutes and be off—a very different set from the old, surly, obstinate tenants, who held our bones and organs upon indefinite leases. A sniff, a pellet, which it requires an eye of faith to see, a mere medical hint, as it were, is enough to do what once ounces, pounds, and quarts, could scarcely effect. This is jugglery, we fear, or worse. No man, on re-covery, can look back with an applauding conscience upon his own sincere endeavors, as once he could, to sit up in bed, when from hair to are sold? is the frequent question. We reply, heels you are but one prolonged nausea; with swimming eyes to descry your nurse approaching with lukewarm senna; to calculate with stomach-heaving arithmetic how many gulps will be required; and then, with every resource of your being at burning martyr-point, to thrust the unutterable abomination down, and with even fiercer fight to keep it down-who, as he fell back upon his newly beaten-up pillow, has not felt that no disease with one particle of self-respect would long stand in company with such hideous medicine? One is proud of his Anglo-Saxon capacity; of his sacrifices and suf-ferings for health; and when health returns, he feels that he has earned it, and paid, by pain and potion, every farthing which the violated laws of health exacted. To get well was evipenalty. dence that a man was made of the sternest But, bah! We are ashamed to think how these effeminate doctors, who carry a whole apothecary shop in a pocket-book no bigger than your hand, walk in, put three drops of some-thing into two half tumblers of water, giving you a teaspoonful, utterly tasteless, hour by hour; or put upon your tongue three or four white specks of milk-sugar, and that he calls medicine! Our Anglo-Saxon forefathers would ha e scorned to get well upon such a dainty practice, and would die like men upon substantial medicine, rather than sneak back to life an afternoon paper. We knew the advantages

We are daily exhorted to apostacy. Example and cyclopedias of advice are lavished upon our obduracy. Measles are right down good and die only when our time shall have come. fun, and teething and convulsions medical diversions. Scarlet fever, that bloody horror of the nursery, the moment he sees Dr. Hanemann, "comes right down." Indeed, the old red Red Jacket, civilized into drunkenness and into greeted a midnight village with a war-whoop, and found their way into it by the light of its blazing roofs! If one dies under this practice, we are assured that "all men must die when their time comes, in spite of all medicine. And this seems rational. But if it had been Allopathy, they would have taken us by the button, shook their sad heads, sighed, and ejaculated. "strange!" as if no excuse could be given for a man who died in the pale of the old school. It was evidently suicide. Then, too, there is no harm done, even if there is no good, we are told. Pa and ma are afraid of strong medicine! But these darling little dainties, these pills for fairies, you may take any number of without danger. Indeed, their power is inversely as their number. Three are better than four, two better than three, one better than two, and none at all better thanbut we will not say that.

But we have observed how much more medicine is taken by many of our kind friends of this school than by us. To be sure, a stout blue pill is a mountain by the side of their Homeopathic dust. But then we only take such once a year. Now, medicine so harmless as those dear little phials contain is a very tempt-

THE DAILY AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.

OUR SECOND YEAR! One year ago this day was issued the first number of the AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. We were then assured by many intelligent citizens of Washington that it had already been fully demonstrated that such a paper could not live here, and that ours could not exist three months; while cautious men of business assured us that if we should succeed in sustaining it, then they would give us their support! The predictions of the former have proved baseless—the wish that was father to the thought has not been realized; and the promises of the latter have not been redecated.

been redeemed. Cut off from all hopes of the kind of patronage Cut off from all hopes of the kind of patronage on which other papers of this city fatten—encountering the overwhelming competition of Washington papers supported by the government patronage, and the newspapers of Baltimore, that derive their support from a commercial and manufacturing population of one hundred and eighty thousand persons—proscribad in official places—avoided by timid men in office—opposed by the concerted influence of a portion of a respectable religious communion, upon a pretext enable religious communion, upon a pretext entirely baseless—without the influence in the community of connexions and friends to defend us from the adroit opposition of interested com-petitors,—we have yet maintained our position, and to-day stand before our fellow-citizens pre-pared to serve them faithfully, fearlessly, and ndependently.

We have no favors to ask. We have respect and good-will toward the people of this community, and intend to merit theirs in return. But we shall not do this by flattering their follies, or appealing to their sympathies. When such a course as this becomes necessary to insure success, we shall not be ashamed to fail. But until it does, our path shall lie onward and upward. We will neither fail nor falter. Now for a few familiar words. Why do we not Because we are not in Baltimore—because a com-mercial city of one hundred and eighty thousand people can yield an amount of advertising custom not to be obtained in a community of forty thousand people who do their shopping in Baltimore! Do their shopping in Baltimore! Yes, by a wilful and unreasonable opposition to the only cheap paper of their own that ever could survive their slights, the business men of Washington give all the aid in their power to promote the interests of Baltimore merchants here. The Baltimore papers contain Baltimore advertisements; and the people of Washington compile their memoranda from such advertisements, send their orders to Baltimore, obtain their goods there, and thus

Would we proscribe the papers of Baltimore? By no means. We regard the morning as flat and dull that does not bring them to us. We are willing to encourage their circulation here. They should bring light and knowledge to every home and place of business throughout our whole city. Every one should rejoice in the facilities they afford. But the extensive circulation of a Washington afternoon paper, with the advertisements of Washington business peo-ple, should preserve us from the temptation of sending to Baltimore for those commodities which To be sure, almost every relative that we have, paternal, fraternal, seroral, but not uxorial, has yielded to the insidious temptation, and gone into these bye and finished. WILMINGTON BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthiest parts of the city of Wilmington, entirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The uniform healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of serious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contracted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Physiology, History, Rhetoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surreying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter; while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tests, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September,) and is divided into four quarters of eleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventh month (July).

WONDER-WORKING SALVE. WONDER-WORKING SALVE, as prepared by the late Dr. Taller, of this city, acts like a charm, invariably effecting permanent cures in all cases of Wounds, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Painful Swellings, Blies, Piles, Abscesses, Ulcers, and Sores of all kinds. It is wonderfully efficacious for Inflammation or rising of the Fenale Breast, or inflammation arising from any cause.

of the FEMALE BREAST, or inflammation arising from any cause.

As a lip salve, and for chapped hands, it has no superior. It will make a perfect cure in a hurry.

The subscriber has used it in his own family with astonishing success, and can recommend it with confidence. And so well assured is the PROPRIETOR of its efficacy, that the purchaser will be at liberty to return what salve is left and his money be refunded in case of failure.

AMERICAN HOUSE, HANOVER STREET, BOSTON.

THE Undersigned having entirely rebuilt and enlarged the above extensive establishment, containing in all about three hundred and fifty rooms; would respectfully give notice that it is now resely for the reception and accommodation of the travelling community.

An extended notice of the unsurpassed conveniences of this House is deemed superfluous, as the numerous improvements which have been made cannot be properly given in an advertisement. Suffice it to say that no expense has been spared to render any apartment perfect.

The furniture was made expressly to order, regardless of cost, and certain portions of it, especially the Drawing-rooms, will be found to be of the most beautiful and tasterol manufacture. The Dining-rooms are capacious, and the hours for meals will be so arranged as to suit the convenience of the early and late.

Byery department will be conducted in an unexceptionable manner, and the Preprietor pleiges himself that the American House shall be truly the Traveller's Home.
